DETAILED ACTION

1. The 112 rejection given in section 2 of the detailed portion of the office action mailed 10/07/2008 is withdrawn in view of applicant's claim amendments filed 06 February 2009.

2. The amendment filed 06 February 2009 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: The paragraph inserted between paragraphs 3 and 4 is new matter.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

3. Claims 1-3, 6, 8-12 and 18-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Laaksonen (WO 03/041525 A1) in view of Rayfield et al. (U.S. 4,242,769).

Laaksonen teaches a foam layer with slits to allow breath-ability that is joined to a fabric layer and can be used in flotation devices (abstract, page 4, first paragraph). Rayfield et al. teaches the use of a breathable water impermeable fabric as an outer layer in a floatation device (col. 1, line 65 through col. 2, line 20). The instant invention claims a foam layer with slits next to a breathable waterproof fabric. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have used a waterproof breathable fabric as the fabric of Laaksonen in order to protect the user of the jacket from moisture.

4. Claims 4-5 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Laaksonen (WO 03/041525 A1) in view of Rayfield et al. (U.S. 4,242,769) as applied to claims 1-3, 6-12 and 14 above, and further in view of Tsai (GB 2 312 643 A).

Tsai teaches the use of "Y", "V" and other slit patterns that allow breath-ability in foam layers. The instant invention claims foam layers with various slit patterns that allow breath-ability. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have used various cross type slit patterns in the foam layer of Laaksonen in view of Rayfield in order to optimize the breath-ability for a given application because of the teachings of Tsai.

5. Applicant's arguments filed 06 February 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the instant claim language that the slits are closed unless the foam is flexed defines over Laaksonen '525. The examiner disagrees, Figure 1 clearly shows the slits are closed when the garment is not being worn and Figure 2 show the slits being open when the garment is flexed and stretched in the process of being put on and worn. This clearly meets applicant's claim language.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to William P. Watkins III whose telephone number is 571-272-1503. The examiner works an increased flex time schedule, but can normally be reached Monday through Friday, 11:30 A.M. through 8:00 P.M. Eastern Time.
